

MEANT TO BE

I look into your eyes
Where the light of love is clearly to be seen
I can not believe
That this can be true
Cause I never thought it would be you
And while I look into your depths
I know that it is true
I am loving you
And you know it, too

Since time began
Since time began
Since time began
You are my man

I know your love is true to me
I see it in your eyes
That now you realize it's true
You love me too

There will never be an ocean deep enough to part our love
There will never be a mountain oh too high,
to get into our way

Cause we're in love since time began
We're in love since time began
It's meant to be since time began

For you an me since time began
