

The Fairies Dance

Tonight the fairies dance for you, my love
The spread their silver wings, their laughter swings
Over the lake, for you my child

The fairies only dance for a true heart my dear
Their blessings only given once a hundred years
To you my dear

They say that for every heart that learns to love
The fairies dance one night and day, they say
That someday the time may come where the dance will never end
Where all people with awakened hearts are living hand in hand
And then the fairies light will never hide again

Tonight the fairies dance for you, my love
For you my child

*Text Copyright A. Kirsten Helmke
ANNEA WORKS*