

Two stars

Two stars met on their way destined to shine together
Their light combined to illuminate the darkness of the time
To show that love is all that really counts,
to dance the dance of pure eternal joy

The heart knows no right or wrong
No where or when no here or then
It lives in the divine it sets us free to be

Two stars meeting on their way destined to shine together
Their light combined to illuminate the darkness of the time
To show that love is all that really counts,
to dance the dance of pure eternal joy

The heart knows no right or wrong
No where or when no here or then
It lives in the divine it sets us free to be

A star meeting others on the way destined to shine together
Our light combined to illuminate the darkness of the time
To show that love is all that really counts,
to dance the dance of pure eternal joy

Lets show that love is all that really counts,
to dance the dance of pure eternal joy

Text Copyright A. Kirsten Helmke ANNEA WORKS