

WINTERTIME

It's wintertime
The snow is fallin'
Your sittin' in your room
And it seems the night is callin' for you
After all this time for you

And you remember times so long ago
Where the summers seem to last forever
And you were young and you were full of hope

And finally, you can see finally
That life is worthy to live
With all the laughter and the pain
You would do it all again
You would do it all again

While the cristall white
Il - luminesces the night
And with the softest sound
The snow is coming down
A silver light un-furls across your eyes
And like a moonlight shadow you move on into the night you go

And finally, you can see finally
That life is worthy to live
With all the laughter and the pain
You would do it all again
